

Elvis

May 17, 2025

Elvis, or as our toddler likes to call him, “DOG”, was our tiny best friend. When they say a dog is a man’s best friend, they mean it. I’ve never seen my husband bond with another dog before the way he did with Elvis. We got the pleasure of having our sweet boy with us for 3 small years, even though I wish it was a lifetime. But I will never take for granted the time we got with him. He was the most patient, affectionate, loving, obedient boy we could’ve asked for. I’ve never seen a small dog, or any dog, love to ride four wheelers like our Elvis did. As soon as his dad turned the four wheeler on, he was jumping in excitement ready for the ride. His favorite spot in the house was the top of the couch just to stare out the window waiting for the moment we get home. Dogs truly do smile because he stayed smiling as much as he kept us smiling. He was honestly the best boy and we will miss him more then anything, we are just glad he’s running free with all the puppy friends he could have and we just hope to be able to see him again one day. Things will never be the same without our Elvis but just thankful we got to love him for as long as we did, he was one of a kind and the perfect fit in our family.

We love you forever Elvis son,

Mom, Dad, Preslee, & Josie. ❤️🐾🐾🌈
